Do you have
the passion for
working creatively
with children
and families?

Do you thrive in
a fast-paced and
busy environment?

If so we'd love to hear from you. We have fantastic opportunities available on the Dragonfly Unit – an inpatient facility at Carlton Court, Lowestoft – offering services to young people who cannot be supported in the community.

We have been rated as 'Outstanding' from CQC in July 2017, putting us in the top 7% of CAMHS unit's across the UK. There is potential that the unit will be expanding to 12 beds.

This will be exciting and challenging work and you will be part of an experienced team and have the opportunity to work collaboratively with the young people, their families, carers and partner agencies to deliver high-quality care to young people. We believe in your professional development and we aim to provide an environment that encourages therapeutic approaches to working with young people and their families.
